

HOME ENERGY EDUCATION AND CONSERVATION

Individuals and families should not have to choose between paying their energy bills and paying for essential needs such as food, housing, and medical care.

We care about the quality of life of our residents. Our goal is to equip individuals and families with the knowledge of available programs and services, along with home energy education and conservation tips that can help ease energy burden, and encourage self-reliance and advocacy in meeting home energy needs. Click on the links below to learn more.
