STOCKTON, Calif. —Allegiant (NASDAQ: ALGT) today announces it will end its scheduled service between Stockton, Calif. and Long Beach, Calif. The carrier's last day of service between Stockton and the Long Beach Airport will be Dec. 12. Customers with reservations Dec. 15 and beyond will be contacted directly by Allegiant for full refund.

"Unfortunately, due to lack of market demand, we will end our service between Stockton and Long Beach," Andrew C. Levy, Allegiant President, said. "We do apologize for any inconvenience this may cause our customers. We greatly appreciate the support the community and the airport's management team has shown us. Our popular flights to Las Vegas remain unaffected by this announcement."
