STOCKTON, CA – At 12:00 today, Austin Erdman, Interim San Joaquin County’s Registrar of Voters, issued the following statement:

“San Joaquin County was prepared for the historic Gubernatorial recall election that is taking place today in California. So far, San Joaquin County has received 120,000 vote-by-mail ballots and we are happy to report things have run smoothly so far at the 101 polling places. Polls will remain open until 8:00 p.m. tonight and I encourage all registered voters to vote in person, by mail or drop their ballot off at an official drop box.”
