What is the Housing for the Harvest Program?

The Housing for the Harvest program is intended to protect the health of essential farm and food processing workers and their families by helping to stop the spread of COVID-19. Participants can choose to voluntarily quarantine at a local hotel for up to 10 days, at no cost to the participant.

How Do I Apply?

If you have tested positive for coronavirus (COVID-19), or think you have been exposed to someone who has tested positive for COVID-19, call the Catholic Charities of the Diocese of Stockton hotline and one of their Case Managers will answer your questions and enroll you in the program if you qualify.

Call: (209) 469-1120

What to Expect

If you qualify for the program, you can expect the following to be provided to you at NO cost to you:

- A hotel room (transportation to/from the hotel will be provided if needed)
- Three meals a day delivered to you
- Laundry services during your stay
- Testing for COVID-19 to confirm the status of your diagnosis
- Financial assistance to help with your financial needs during quarantine, for those who qualify

What is Expected from You

During your time in the program, the following will be expected from you:

- Complete a 10-day stay at the hotel (additional time may be required until you test negative for COVID-19)
- Do not leave the hotel for any reason until you are cleared to leave the program and return to work and/or your family.

Who is Eligible?

You must meet ALL of the following criteria to be eligible for the Housing for the Harvest Program:

- Work in the farming agriculture industry or at a food processing plant (canning, freezing, preserving, or food packing facility); and
- have tested positive for COVID-19, or have been exposed to someone who has tested positive for COVID-19; and
- are unable to self-isolate or quarantine at home due to your housing situation

Immigration Status?

All people who meet eligibility criteria (regardless of immigration status) qualify for the program. A trusted Case Manager from the Catholic Charities of the Diocese of Stockton will ensure any personal identifying information is kept confidential and will NOT be shared with governmental agencies.

Legal immigration services are available for questions or concerns, as well as other community resources for support.
