San Joaquin County Opens Disaster Recovery Center
Services available seven days per week at the San Joaquin County Agricultural Center

Stockton, CA – At 12 p.m. on January 28, 2023, San Joaquin County will open a Disaster Recovery Center at the Robert J. Cabral Agricultural Center, located at 2101 E. Earhart Ave, Stockton, CA 95206. Multiple local, State, and Federal agencies will be available to assist San Joaquin County residents who have been impacted by floods. Services are available beginning today and will remain open seven days per week from 9 am to 7 pm until further notice.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) will be on-site to assist residents and businesses to register for Disaster Assistance and answer any questions about the process. The Disaster Recovery Center includes representatives from:

- FEMA
- U.S. Small Business Administration
- Mexican Consulate
- CA Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV)
- CA Franchise Tax Board (FTB)
- California Department of Insurance (CDI)
- CA Contractors State License Board (CSLB)
- CA Employment Development Department (EDD)
- California Department of Public Health (CDPH) – Vital Records
- California Department of Veteran Affairs (Cal Vet)
- California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD)
- California Department of Social Services (CDSS)
- San Joaquin County Human Services Agency (HSA)
- San Joaquin County Behavioral Health Services (BHS)
- San Joaquin County Assessor-Recorder, County Clerk (ARCC)

The fastest way to apply is through DisasterAssistance.gov. Individuals may also apply through the FEMA mobile app or by calling 1-800-621-3362. For those in need of a video relay service, captioned telephone service, or other communication services, contact FEMA to receive specific numbers assigned for those services.

San Joaquin County's Emergency Operations Center remains activated and is now shifting into recovery operations. For more information on winter storms or recovery efforts, please visit SJReady.org.
