Stockton has given so much to me -- my faith, my education, and love for our community. I'm grateful for the mentors that have molded me into the person I am today.

Our city needs healing. Crime continues to plague us, and our homeless population continues to grow. While many are trying to make ends meet, our city's factions can't seem to work together to solve our problems.

It's time to put egos and politics aside, understanding the solution is not one person or Mayor; it's a cooperative effort. That's why I'm proud to have the support of thousands of Stockton residents, community stakeholders, and public safety organizations like Stockton Professional Firefighters Local 456 and Stockton Police Officers' Association. Working together within our diverse and talented community, we can find the answers to Stockton's problems.

I've been blessed to have worked in the corporate world, and currently as a Director of Operations with a Stockton non-profit focusing on poverty alleviation.

I am a proud U.S. Marine veteran, but the best decision I ever made was marrying my wife of 18 years, Bonnie, and raising our two children together. I'd be honored to serve as your Mayor.

God bless Stockton!!!
